ST. TE CONVENTION OF SOLDIERS. On Saturdsy, 7th inst., the members of the reation reassembled at 10 o'clock A. M., Major Kinney proposed the following resolu inclusion with a line compliance with a liest made by many friends entrounding me, is then through any desire on my part to be red in this convention, that I will sak the filege of saying a few words upon the resonant proposed by the committee. And I will in the commencement that I opposed this while in the commencement that I opposed this while in the committee-room because the waste in which it is couched made it. Hable he objection of being the convention in the committee of the control of the convention in the convention of the chiection of being too general in its charr, and I sought in the commit errors to selfmer a resolution for it setting forth spesiture a resolution for it setting forth spesiture are selfment of the soldier leading bart in the war, and resing the President's efforts to make the one of the soldier leading so far as those ofstors of the soldier Iructify so far as those opects were concerned.

Ent. notwithstancing the precise language of the rerointion did not sult me, yet the spirit and intent of the recommon meets with my menty concurrence. It is objected that it is made that we must exclude everything of a political rature from our deiberations. So far as this declaration applies to what is vulgarly uncertood as politics I agree with the gentleman I would not have this convention declare in fevor of a say political party or faction. But if by politics the gentleman as those great and fundemental principles upon which our government is based, then, sit would have the soldiers here, clearly and emphotoscopy preclaim the principles upon which they took part in the great struggle through which we have so recently passed, and to deshire that they will maintain and abide by those brinciples in the father as they have in the set, and, eit, this recolution simply makes that lectaration.

Eir, for what did we sever the ties of past ashed returned home, by men whose sympathies had been with the rebellion. He said that orceived close attention, and had their proper efact is made pleadable in bar to any suit or pro-secution against him. But no such act was passed on behalf of the Federal soldier. On the contrary the doors of persecution were feet. At the close of his speech, he moved that opened jet wider upon him. And while you are being thus stricken down by nafriendly opened yet weer upon him. And while you are teing thus stricken down by nofinendly leg sistion, and men are seeking power by marrepresenting and abusing you, it is trages here that you must not give utterance to the great principles for which you fught, and for which your companions due by your side, for fear that it may give office to some political party. Sir, could he whose name gilds that flag over your head, the neber, gallant, Jenes S. Jackson, and could those who fell beneath that ragged banber to your right, come up from the fields where they it —some of them unburied, and none of them with a stone to mark their resting places—would they not cry sheme upon each heelsancy. But, says the gentleman, we must have no pettreal utterances. We count of vaid politics if we say anything at all about principles. But this recolution is as high above partisan politics it we say anything at all about principles. But this recolution is as high above partisan politics as the religion of Jesus Christ is above the seca ion puncils of the faise minister who "terms the livery of Herven to serve the Devil in " should act upon it, and act with a full know! edic of all the facts. We should do something that will prove permanent and lasting.

J. MARTIN:

Green dreet, bet ween The d and Prarth,

MONDAY, APRIL A. 1806. We saked, on Wedresday, why none of meetings, called for the appointment delegates to the Mrj. Kwi'ns Convention inforced President Johnson's restoration policy. Our neighbor of the Courier responded ! all indorsing, as he said, the President's restors tion policy. But, of all the nire resolutions of the nine weetings cland by him, only one, only a single one, indersed the policy in question We thought that not one had indorsed it while he, with the recolutions of th nine meetings before him, pretended that they all ladored it. Thus we, speaking merely from recollection and what we had chanced to ree, were nine times as near the though the resolutions were in plain type sight before his eyer! And here, ti only for fun's ate, let us republish some of the esolutions, which, as he insists, are ful and free indorsements of the President's plan of storation. Read, reader, read, and try not t laugh or to be amazed. We give them exactly we find them in the Courier: TRIMBLE C. UNIT.

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Democra-y and Conservatives of Trimble county, &c. the meeting also recommended Mr. Bush, who was not connected with the war. LABUE COUNTY.

Resolved, That we tender our grateful hearts in gratitude to President Johnson for his timely and just in investation in the veto of the Freed-men's Barram bill, which action is hereby in-detect without receivation.

MEADE COUNTY.

Resolved, That Themas J. Gough, M. H.
Meader, Henry Pusey, William Ditto, David R.
Farmeter, Elijah Shacklett, Wm. H. Gough,
John H. Trent, A. J. Johnson, G. A. Graham, Wm. J. Beall, D. C. Pousey, Frank Ditto, Elmund F. Greenwood, Beal D. Calvin, and Joseph B. Woolfook and all other Democrate and Convertative men in the county who choose to participate in the Convention do be appointed delegates to represent Meade county in said Convention.

Resolved, That, W. W. Montgomery, Thomas Kelly, L. C. Ditto, Greenup King, John R. Puev, George Fisher, D. T. Applegate, Thomas L. Dewserd, W. B. Montague, C. W. Lewis, and C. W. Fietcher, K. D., are appointed delegates to ead Convention; and we bereby request all good chizos of this and our neighboring precinct to attend said Convention. HENRY COUNTY.

And, on motion, all other Democrats of Hen-y county, as well as all other Conservative bomocrats and others disposed to act and vote with the Democratic perty be, and they are serely appointed delegates to said Convention and cordistly invited to attend. And, these resolutions, ay these, are given ty the editor of the Courier in apparent earpestress as indorsements of President Johnson's give many more of similar character!" Oh, yes, no doubt he could—many more indorsing the Johnson restoration policy on language notless direct and explicit. Now, seriously-what nuder the blue and bended heavens can he have been thinking of or dresming of when he paraded ore resolutions as indorsements of the Presider t'e restoration plan? Was he sare or lusane. as'eep or a wake? Was he in the body or out of the body? Such a phenomenon of the mind or the no-mind is worth investigating! Philosophers! hurry up your philosophy!

The editor of the Courier say: "We do not suppose that the Journal knows of a paper or a man, who is supporting the [1st of May] convention, who is not hearti'y in favor of that policy [the Johnson restoration policy | or who does not cornectly desire its adoption." Now if the meetings for the sending of delegates to the Convention are heartily in favor of the obneon policy of restoration and earnestly desire its adoption, why have they not said at? Why have all of them but one been as damb upon the subject as so many statues with marble topgues in their marble heads? A good many of them have very promptly and unquivocally indorsed the President's two veto ages, and why have they refused to inderes his plan of restoration if they heartily and armestly desire its adoption? For what reason have they discriminated in favor of the policy of the vetors and extended to the restoration policy nothing but a cold, chilling, and grim silence? Are they afraid or ashamed to express what they "heartily and carneetly desire"?

We tell you, fellow-citizens, that this Major Kalfus convention will never do. I a members will come with no authority from their conedituent meetings to indorse the restoration policy, and there is no probability whatever that they will indorse it. What reason can they have for indorsing it, which the meetings that have appointed them had not?

The editor of the Louisville Democrat, only a short time ago, exhibited a wolf-like ferocity egislest President Johnson's restoration policy but for some time past he has obstinately re-france to assess the past he has obstinately refreed to any a single intelligible word either against li or for it.—[Journal, Yea evidently proceed on the idea that the readers of the Journal do not read the Democrat. We indowe President Johnson's policy to set forth in his veto message. Premocrat. Still carefully and studiedy non-committal in regard to President Johnson's restoration

You say that you indorse his policy "as oil forth in his veto messages." Ah ves, but that, you know, is not the point; what we and your enthusisstic admirers would like to know is whether you indorse his policy as set forth in his plan of restoration. The veto messages don't alter or modify a single feature of that plan in the elightest particular. What the plan was before the vetoes, the plan still is. The author hean't budged from it, as it was originally announced, the millionth part of a barley. corp, and he gives notice to all whom it may concern that he areer will.

The President's policy of restoration is one colley, the policy of his veto of the Freedmen' Bureau bill is another, and the policy of his veto of the civil rights bill is still another-all harmonizing with each other, but each one distirct from the others. We should be glad to know distinctly whether or not, neighbor, you climb down, back ont, lay your mouth npon the ground, eat a hearty meal of raw dirt, and indorse and will sustain the President's restoration policy. Please speak as plainly as a mouthfull of uncooked dirt will let you. At scent you are prepared to assume hereafter either that you have indorsed the plan of toration or that you have only denonneed it-accordingly as the one position or the other may seem to yen to promise best at the time. Come, Reynard, we must smoke or burn you cut of that alce, song hole of yours. Come orth into the light of day. Are you afra'd that we shall, Samson-like, tie a firebrand to your There's no doubt that a majority of the judges of the Supreme Court of the United States, after hearing the arguments of counsel have decided to declare the test oath nuconstitutional, but we regret that they are disposed to hold the declaration back a little while. They ought surely to put it forth at once. The oath is utterly mischievous and abenrd. There are no persons of any consideration in the South, none having the confidence and trust of the communities thay live in, who could take the oath without laying the guilt of perjury upon their souls. Certainly nine hundred and ninety-nine thousandths of all the men in the South either fought in the rebellion or aided and abetted it, and, if there is here and there one who did neither, the people are not going to hunt him cut to be sent to Congress. They would far rather be forever unrepresented. If the people of the South, who fought in the war, are deemed loyal enough to have pardon and the benefits of the Proclamation of Peace extended to them, let it be taken for granted that they will elect men to office loyal enough represent them, without any test-oath in the case. But we have no idea that the present pestilent Cozgress will repeal the oath. That body is more likely to incist on an oath of still greater stringency and severity. It may set itself to work to enlarge the test-eath as it did to cularge the Freedmen's Bureau.

The editor of the Democrat cays that we are a fool. If we were a fool, we assure him that we would go and be a fool somewher else. He is fool enough to embody the whole fool element in the press of any city. Even the old Kings kept but a fool apieca, and Louisville He doesn't trade and dicker.

Saturday fineled us allo my news. The President's veto has been 1 et in the U.S. Sinat-What of the future now? The vote as given was thirty three to fffeen. The whole an ab a of Senators from States at present represented is fifty. One of the New Jeissy Sanatora, M . Stockton, has just been expelled, in order to obtain this vote and for other purposes, and Mr. D.xon, of Connecticut, a conservative member who sustains the President, was absent vreason of severe illness. The number pres ent, therefore, was firty-eight, two-thirds be ing thirty-two, or one less than the number voting against sustaining the veto. The dispatch save Mr. Morgan, of New York who voted with the majority, rescinded his vete; but without it there were still two-thirds of the whole number present in opposition to the veto. If Mr. Dixon had been present, and had voted to sustain the President, as he would have done, the result would have been changed and the veto sustained. What trementon:

consequences may result from the absence of that one vote! may, under some circumstances, be a matter of no very great importance to the public at large; but the defeat of the one in question at the present time and with all the circumstances that surround it, we confers, fills us with the gravest apprehensions for the consequences. An act of Congress, we know, is not necessarily emnipotent, and it does not necessarily ollow that it must be carried into execution, even if it is approved by the President. There is a tribural before which sny act of Congress may be taken, and that has the power to declar it null and void. It is a wise provision of our glorious Constitution, a proof of the protound sagacity of the framers of our Government. They provided a common Judge to pronounce upon all laws whose constitutionality may be called in question. We allude of course to the Sopreme Court. But, notwithstanding this, the defeat of the reco under present circumstances fills as with gloomy forebodings, which, however, may prove to be destitute of any enbetantial basis We trust, we will hope, that it may turn ont so. We must not despair of the Republic, but try to believe in the trinmph of common sense and mederate connects, and the peaceful, f not speedy, sointier of all our national diffi

There is no real antagonism, there never have er, between the interests of the people of the United States; and that theory that supposes here is or has ever been is a perverted and a perricious theory, which has brought already ecalculable wees upon the country.

We must defer further comment till we re elve additional intelligence of the develop ment of the greatest national drama of modern t-mes.

The Coprier professes to think that we are indifferent to both the name and the prinples of the forth-coming organization in this State for the support of President Johnson. We are indeed indifferent to its name, but the fact of the convention's being called to sustain the Johnson administration cicarly indicates and firmly fixes its principles. It will no doubt choose a name for itself, but its enemies, of whatever party or section, may call it wha they like. Nobody knows what the Democratic party in Kentucky is; the Louisville Democrat and the Louisville Courier can't agree acto what h is, and their respective followers throughout the State are equally nuable to agree upon that subject; but everybody knows perfectly the political position of those men, who, with s proper disdain for the names that would mislead, are willing and anxlous to unite together for the vindication and support and maintenance of the noble principles and measures upon which President Johnson plants himself for the restoration of the Union and the preservation of the righ's and liberties of the people. The Courier says that we know that "there is but one party in the country now supporting the President." Certainly neither of the socalled Democratic parties in Kentneky neither the Conrier's Democratic party ner the Democrat's Democratic parts, gives any sign of supporting him in the grand policy npon which he takes his stand against all enemice and nentrals, the policy of restoration. The editor of the Democrat stigmatizes it as base radicalism; none of his friends in the Legislature at Frankfort gave the slightest support to it; and out of all the Courier's County meetings for the sending of delegates to its Convention, only one, and that consisting probably of not more than five or six persons, has indorsed it The member's of the Consier's Convention will not indorse it: they are coming here for no such purpose—thus much certain. If, then, we would place ourselves in harmeny, in fall communication and co-operation with the Democracy of the aver-ional States, we must have a convention, a Johnson Convention, a convention representing all who are not willing to put off with stinted, hesitatin , helf-way approval, or with censure, or with sulicn silence, the stern glant now battling for the whole of us, against desperate odds, but who will gladly send him such words of congratulation, encouragement, and cheer, as shall thrill his great heart with electric power A good many of the radical papers profess to think that President Johnson designs to revolutionize the Government by military force But, in professing this, they are hypocrites, fall sificre, in fact liars. They don't believe what they pretend to believe. There is no ground whatever upon which they could found such a teled if they were to try. But it matters little to them what they believe if they can make others believe what they please.

Let any of President Johnson's friends and any of his enemies scrntinize his whole contse in his present high position from first to last, and they will find no act, no word of his against the letter or epirit of the Constitution He has strictly conformed to and obeyed in a thirgs the great charter of American liberty. He has threatened nothing, but gone on with : calm and majestic step in the plain, clear path of duty and patriolism. He has respected the tights and privileges of others whilst exercising his cwn in moderation. He has shown no dis position to make charges in the Constituti n but, on the centrary, has resisted them. He has given no indication of any thought of via at interposition to correct the errors or the crimes however factions, of any other department of the Government, but has been content to wield his own unquestionable prerogatives for what he deems the greatest good of the nation. He has not sought additional powers, but, with more than Roman virtue, with true Washing onish virtue, he has rejected, sternly and steadily rejected, the imperial power which Congress urged and would have thrust upon him. If embition had been the guiding spirit of his life, he could have granfied it to its fullest extent. To charge such a man with a design to promote and elevate himself by using the army and navy to revolutionize the Govern ment is one of the most atrocious slanders that man or fiend ever nttered.

We notice that the Soldiers' Convention at Masonic Temple yesterday vated down a resolution indorsing the reconstruction policy of Andrew Johnson. We did not think that a equad of men could be got together, outside of the tea party of radicals in Kentucky, who would take such a position as this. We were not present when the discussion upon the resolution occurred, but understand that those who speke against it took the ground that the meeting had nothing to do with politics, and therefore leapproprists.—Courier. te leappropriate. - Courier It was cutirely evident, from all the indications given by the members of the Convention. that they were very nearly if not entirely unanimous in favor of President Johnson's oration policy. But the indorrement of the policy by the Convention was deemed inappropriate, that body being assembled for purposes wholly apart from all political questions. According to the view of the most zealous rectors tion men in the Convention, it had properly as little to do either for or against the restorat policy as if it had been a meeting for the promotion of some railroad enterprise. No don this view was correct; at any rate we did not hesitate to express it to several of the delegates, who, before the meeting of the Convention, consulted us upon the entject.

President Johnson conid, without the east trouble, have bought Senators enough to prevent his veto from being over-ridden. But the stern old giant isn't in that line of business

He talked Dixie and Democracy, dreamed Dixie and Democracy, thought Dixie and Democracy, sing Dixie and Democracy, and whist'ed Dixie and Democracy. And he illustrated his Demoratic teaching, talking, dreaming, thinking, r ging, and whistling, by uniting with a few of ais rebel friends to establish a Provisional Rebe Lverrment over Kentucky, without giving r voters a chance to say a word upon the at jeet, and by appointing Senators and Repre ntalives, without constituents, to act in her sme and behalf in Dixie's Democratic Co rees, although he now confesses that Kenincky was all the while loyal to he Federal Government. Yes, his vaun'ed Democracy, as manifested in that business, con ted is taking a few individuals from a State hat he acknowledges to have been entirely logal to the United States, and putting ther into a Diale Democratic Congress to aid in the making of laws for Democratic Dixie And ow, with all the advantages of this wonderful lemccratic experience, here he homes, claims is rank as Lleutenant General of the whole Democracy of Kentucky, ordalus Democratic orvertions through the thin ghost of an old and defunct Rebel Committee, and assumes as a ight all the functions belonging to a despotic. ulocratic, imperial Dimocrat! in response to numerons requests from men of all parties, in various portions of the State, we appounce that a grand mass meeting of the triends of President Johnson's restoration poliey will assemble in this city on WEDNESDAY, THE SEVENTE OF NEXT MAY. It was as eminently deserved by Mr. Lithgow as lugenradical elements of the country. RE ELECTION OF MATOR LITHGOW.-The ous yly extended by the young men. By the Mayoralty election, on Saturday, resulted in the way, this corps of musicians are entitled to choice of Hon. James S. Lithgow by the handgreat praise for the rapid progress they have some majority of 1,924 votes. The number of votes polled, although the largest ever before made in their art. All of them are beginners, cast in a similar election, was emaller than had nec weeks. This reflects the highest credit been generally expected; but it may be truly said that our citizens manifested more real inter 'n this contest than ever heretofore.

And the acquence of that interest is all that could have been hoped for. Mr. Lithgow's reelection is to be viewed as a great triumph by he triends of morality and good government His acceptance of 'he mayoralty at the singu larly trying period in our municipal affairs three months ago, gave confidence to the people and increased stability to the hody politic Louisville then entered upon a new and better era, and the continuance of Mr. Lithgow in the re unive office will insure the undeviating advarcement of our city in the prosperous carethus opened up. As law-sbiding, order-loving citizens we should be thankful for our escape from the dissolute rule to which the defeat of Mr. Libgow would have enbjected us. In rejecting air. Gilchriest, our people have evinced a loyalty to principle, by which we carrestly hope they may be actuated in all future elections. Not only have the people chosen a wise and good and worthy head-officer, but they have surrounded him with coworkers that are capable and honest and true. Harmony between the chidi magistrate and members of the Council and lesser funtionaries is all-important-in fact, there can no satisfactory operation of the city government when the interests of each and every one of its officers are not identical. We rejoice that the city of Louisville has awak. ened to a sense of duty and of gentility, and keeping of high-minded, honorable, and competent men. Governed by such officers, our course will be onward, onward in every highroad to prosperity and enviable character as a

THE LESSON OF SATURDAY'S ELECTION .- The lesson taught by the election of Mayor Lith gow Saturday last is a vastly important one to our city. It clearly demonstrates that the peoof Louisville are determined to place in power hereef er men who are competent and crity of official trust, and that they have but to properly exert themselves always to secure such a result. The most unscrupulous combinations were effected with a view to the election of Mr. Gilchriest, but they were futile in opposition to the aroused and enlightened determination of the true men of Louisville who, from innumerable considerations, should always take an active part in such elections. Let | the candidates, especially for the Mayoralty, of our citizens which was | was earnest and spirited throu brought to bear last Saturday be kept intact | in every part of the city; but the friends of the for future elections, and the city can be saved by it from bad and imcompetent officials.

We would add this: Let every good citizen determine, regardless of party, that he will hereafter vote for no man as a candidate for a responsible office in the city government, or as a candidate for a clerkship in any of our courts. who does not enstain an unblemished personal moral character. We want no whisky-heads or supporters of lewd women in the offices we have irdicated. The people of Louisville have it in their power to exclude such men from official responsibilities, and in the name of so clety and the highest interests of the city they shou'd invariably and emphatically assert it much steam in the canvass for the Mayorality Their pockets are collapsed are as empty as space. We saw several of them at a liveryetalle or Saturday evening, all as sullen as a reheaded bears and as feroclous as hyenss. One said, flat, in electioneering and betting he had lost three thousand dollars. And now, Mr. Lithgow, your fellow-citizene rely upon you not to permit the rescale to replenish their accursed rurses here. We know that you will have a keen eye to them, and that any of the police who shall wink at their doings will be deal with summarily. Let the curse, ay, all the

"cusess" be removed from the city. And the keepers of brothels—they have been expending prostitution-money most profusely to elect Glichrist. They have sought to make then selves a power in our city government. They have undertaken to control our municipal affairs. Lot them and their esta' lishments be looked to. Let them be visited with condign purishment for every violation of law. Let no forbearance be shown to those disgusting corrupture of the morale of youth. Let "the gates threatened and abused her. Joseph Gillaman, of Mercy" be chut on them, and the rates of the work house be opened to them first and shut afterwards.

Louisville has vindicated her own char acter and ruetained her own interests in the ekc.i n of Mayor Lithgow. She has done for herselt a good, an excellent work. She has a chief magistrate worthy of her enlightenment, her greatness, and her power. She has one who is intelligent, incorruptible, bold, and devoted to the public good. The great mass of our citizens were thorough. ly aroused, on Saturday, to the importance of the occasion. They saw that, without a strong effort on their part, the worst might come upon them. They beheld a vile and disgusting combivation of the blacklegs, the prostitutes, the ggery fiends, and all the other base classes of the community, and they felt the imperative necessity of resisting it with all the honest The Democrat is in the habit of supporting its means at their command. Prominent citizens, who had not been to the polls for five years, went and voted for Lithgow. Demogogues should and must learn the lesson that a great city cannot be wified with and humbugged bevond a certain point. Thomas D. Wright, a veteran editor, oposes to re-establish at Carrollton, in this State, the "Signs of the Times," and is now collecting material for that purpose. He hopes to get the prper under wayfin the coorse of two months. In politics it will suppart President Johnson's policy of restoration, and the policies of the veto-messages. We have no doubt that it while the instrument of much political
